

Meghna Tewari is Head of Retail Market Policy at Ofgem. She is an economist with significant experience in design and delivery of regulatory interventions, developmental financing, strategic organization review, price controls, enforcement and competition policy. She has a Masters degree from the London School of Economics.